Once again we'd like to thank everybody who reached out to us reporting bugs and giving us your honest feedback. Now onto what this update actually does: - Implemented a fix to always boot the game as fullscreen the first time the game is initiated - Fixed a bug where the resolution and quality dropdowns in the options menu were not correctly populated the first time the game is booted - Fixed a bug that prevented some players from changing the audio volume during the game - Inclusion of a couple new screens on the tutorial - Added tutorial navigation using keyboard arrows - Minor fixes on power details texts and impact for clarification In the next couple of weeks we'll be working on some bigger changes to the game (mainly a complete overhaul of the skepticism mechanic that should make the gameplay much more dynamic). Please, keep the feedbacks coming and together we'll make Anthropomachy a great game..
